There once was a giant named Kana. He lived in a valley called Manoa on the island of O‘ahu. He was so big that he could put one foot on O‘ahu and the other foot on Kaua‘i. He was so tall that he could even jump from one island to another.